

Not Perfect But Patterned
A Patterned Home (Part Two)

A man's home is a key indicator of his calling to leadership.

1. His home must run well

a. He is an effective leader

b. He is a loving caregiver

2. His children must behave well

a. He disciplines them to obedience

b. He leads them to faithfulness

3. His manner must speak well

Questions for thought or discussion from today's message:

Why is the home a good proving ground for church leaders?

What is the correlation between the home and the church?

Why does the father's ability to manage his children to obedience indicate his ability to manage the church?

How can we work to maintain the balance between correction and comfort?

Why is it important to look at how a father leads his children to obedience? How does this relate to the church?

What did you learn from this message? How is the Spirit leading you to change?