

Blessed Are the Broken
Luke 6:20-26

Eternal blessing will come to those who see their brokenness and need, but eternal deprivation will come to those who are fit and self-satisfied.

- 1. Blessed are the poor, but woe to the rich.
 - a. Who are the poor, and why are they blessed?
 - b. Who are rich, and why are they cursed?

- 2. Blessed are the hungry, but woe to the well-fed.
 - a. Who are the hungry, and why are they blessed?
 - b. Who are the well-fed, and why are they cursed?

- 3. Blessed are the weeping, but woe to the laughing.
 - a. Who are the weeping, and why are they blessed?
 - b. Who are the laughing, and why are they cursed?

Order of Worship Service at Cornerstone

July 19th, 2026

Our order of worship reflects the gospel pattern of hearing and responding: God calls us, revealing Himself to us; we respond in exultation that gives way to confession and contrition. God forgives and assures us; we respond with thanksgiving and professions of faith, with petitions and offerings. God instructs and charges us; we respond by going forth to declare and display His goodness.

It is good and right to prepare ourselves to worship, to quiet our souls and direct our hearts to know that He is God.

When God calls us to see Him as He is, our hearts either move to exultation or melt in apprehension. By grace we will exult!

God's holiness reveals our fallenness; and, by grace, we agree with His condemnation and confess our sinfulness. Confession and contrition are the roadways to salvation and the responses of those already saved.

God assures us of forgiveness and comforts us by reminding us of Christ and His cross. The redeemed respond by singing their thanksgiving, by professing their faith, and by petitioning His grace.

By the mercies of God, offer yourselves to Him and worship Him with your life.

Believers go forth and proclaim the excellencies of Christ by declaring His gospel with their mouths and by displaying its truth with their lives.
